The European Partnership for Action Against Cancer is proud to announce the European School of Screening Management, a two-week intensive training course on the principles, organization, evaluation, planning and management of cancer screening programmes.

The first module is to be held in Lyon, France, from 19-23 November 2012 at the International Agency for Research on Cancer.
The second module to be held optionally at another place in the EU on 11-15 March 2013.
This action falls under the EPAAC Work Package 6, Screening and Early Diagnosis.
The course aims to improve implementation of cancer screening as currently recommended by the European Union, by introducing a comprehensive curriculum to interested staff of national or regional cancer screening management and evaluation units. Any other staff or professionals currently collaborating with established units or currently planning or interested in implementing cancer screening programmes are also eligible to participate.
The multidisciplinary training will cover topics essential to planning and coordination of population-based programmes of Cervical, Breast and Colorectal Cancer Screening (week 1), and practical solutions to current problems presented by the participants will be developed (week 2). To find out more detailed information and for information on how to apply, please click here