Spotlight on: Best Cancer Reporter Award

In the jungle of the miracle healers
It was her own fault that she lost her chance to be cured. Or was it? This article, which was first published in the German weekly news magazine Der Spiegel, and won its author a Best Cancer Reporter Award, explores what makes people choose alternative over conventional treatments

You can read the full article in Cancer World.