- Grants : Would you like the time/money to work on a particularly complex or time-
- Awards : Have you had one or more cancer-related stories printed, broadcast or pe
- Reporting opportunities Would you like the chance to cover stories from ESMO 2014 a conference of the chance to cover stories from ESMO 2014 a conference of the chance to cover stories from ESMO 2014 a conference of the chance of th
- Reporting tips : Would you welcome tips on how to help your audience make sense of ca

We may be able to help

GRANTS FOR MAJOR STORIES

This year, for the first time, ESO is running a unique scheme that will allow journalists to apply for grant. The grant is open to print, broadcast and new media journalists. Preference will be given to early- to missing further details and http://www.htmleschemer.com/Media/Cancer_World_Journalist_Grants.html

BEST CANCER REPORTER AWARD

Nominations for the 201th awards close on April.310the top award is worth €5000, with a runners up prize

An article written by win @angcjeru Malists will be purblighten ¥600 can get www.edaforen and/download Media/Best Cancer Reporter Award.html

Our Best Cancer Reporter Award, now in its ninth year, has been so successful in acknowledging and s

ESMO CONFERENCE, Madrid, 26-30 September 2014

ESO will pay travel, accommodation and subsistence costs. It will also provide a briefing session before

If you would like to hearched about this opportunity and how to apply, please contact Corinne Hall at

ESO is offering 15 journalists a unique opportunity to come with us to the 2014 conference of the Europ

MAKING SENSE OF CANCER: A JOURNALIST'S GUIDE

Covering cancer stories Osa naceer I V Acordo rewarding as eaved lijous roahishocti rhout https://doi.org/Media/Media_Guide.html

The Guide is aimed at busy journalists who want to help their audiences make sense of stories, whethe It uses many of the articles from across Europe that have won Best Cancer Reporter Awards as good e

The Guide is available atttp://www.cancerworld.org/Media/Media Guide.html

Feedback and comments all welcome and should be sent to